

Weekly Progress Review Worksheet

Five minutes at the end of each week to plan the next one

Name: _____ Class: _____ Week ending: _____

Answer honestly. The point is to decide what to study next, not to judge yourself.

1. Which chapters can I explain without notes?

---

---

2. Which question types still cause mistakes?

---

---

3. Did I complete my planned practice sessions?

---

---

4. Which topics need another revision?

---

---

Subject check-in

| Subject | Can explain without notes? (Y / Partly / N) | Question types or topics that trip me up | Priority next week (H / M / R) |
|---------|---------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|
|         |                                             |                                          |                                |
|         |                                             |                                          |                                |
|         |                                             |                                          |                                |
|         |                                             |                                          |                                |
|         |                                             |                                          |                                |

5. What are my top 3 priorities for next week?

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____